

FISHMAN®

The latest addition to the Prefix Series includes many features from Fishman's Stereo Blender, including an onboard chromatic tuner, a gooseneck-style internal microphone, and a streamlined new look. Standard on the Prefix Premium Blend is the acclaimed Acoustic Matrix under-saddle pickup. To compliment and contrast this pickup, a miniature gooseneck microphone captures the guitar's elusive natural ambience and sound chamber resonance. Blend the pickup and the microphone together for a powerful and cohesive acoustic guitar tone that is deeper and more "filled out", than the sound of either the microphone or pickup alone. The Premium Blend's preamp module incorporates a unique flip-top battery compartment for easy access. Levels are set by the master volume and blend controls. Traditional shelving-style bass & treble, plus a semi-parametric "Contour" EQ are included so you can shape your guitar's tone exactly to taste. With the flick of a switch, you can choose between stereo or mono signal paths for the system's pickup and microphone. This feature expands your options for routing both signals. To complete the package, Fishman includes a phase switch and an adjustable notch filter, both essential for fighting feedback.
