

TIMBERLINE T55Ac

Timberline Guitars make fine instruments—especially when you consider their accessible price range. Hand-finished, solid woods, fantastic design—they're all par for the course. The T55Ac Auditorium Cutaway is a smaller, 4.5"-deep guitar with pronounced lows and mids. The balance between frequencies was outshined only by the intonation, which was perfect straight out of the case. The sustain and balance of the T55Ac jumped out when playing a harmonic exercise. Whereas lesser guitars only give a pinched ghost of the actual harmonic content, this guitar sang out whole chords as the harmonics overlapped. Highly recommended for intermediate to experienced players with a discerning ear.

STREET PRICE: $1100.

A S S E E N I N :

Performing Songwriter

“The balance between frequencies was outshined only by the intonation, which was perfect straight out of the case.”

—Performing Songwriter

May 2008

Be Heard.